"Haste thee, nymph, and bring with thee
[illegible] youthful jollity
Quips and cranks, and wanton wiles
Nods and Becks and wreathed smiles."
John Milton

Dedication

William Brown

A figure accessed by too few Davidson students, William Brown provides support to those who venture to lead many Union affiliated organizations. As the head of the Union, William can often be found in his office, participating in many Union activities, or simply walking around campus stopping to converse with any member of the college community.

I first met William while taking croquet to fill a PE requirement my Sophomore year. Since that time, William has not only been a mentor, but also a friend. Throughout the year William has provided both technical and moral support that has finally yielded this year's Quips and Cranks. I would like to thank William for being one of the members of the Davidson faculty and staff whom I could always trust to provide an unbiased opinion and lend a helping hand.

Tony Abbott

As the longest tenured member of the Davidson faculty, Dr. Abbott embodies Davidson. He can usually be found in his third floor Chambers office ready to talk to any student. His poetry and work on plays have won him acclaim both in and outside of the Davidson Community. He encourages his students to be free thinking and creative, often fostering in them a complete adoration for him as well as a feeling of success for what they have accomplished.

As Dr. Abbott moves towards his retirement in a couple of years, his loss will be greatly felt by the entire community. Thank you Dr. Abbott for being my advisor, mentor, and friend the past two years.

In Memoriam

Zac Lacy

Too
in memoriam pzl

In a leaden hour
a boy felt the sky too small
the minute too large and he made peace with sleep
now his wine is watered with friends' tears where were your friends, brother?
they were waiting for you
in your house
but you came home too late and missed them

I speak, but you don't listen.

of Quips and Cranks

Foreword:
(from the 36th volume of Quips and Cranks)

Davidson's student life is itself homogenous and simple. Davidson's spirit is emblematic of the unpretentious, denying itself the luxuries of form and show. Davidson's faculty, like her students, are alike in tastes and in pursuits. Davidson's traditions are few but powerful, making evident the sameness of the mold in which we are all cast. Davidson's athletics speak of the same spirit of modesty. Davidson's activities add voices of modulation to the general tone.

Of this life without superfluity and unwanted ostentation Davidson's Yearbook attempts to speak. Therefore with simple lines and plain colors we have built a monument to that Spirit of Davidson.

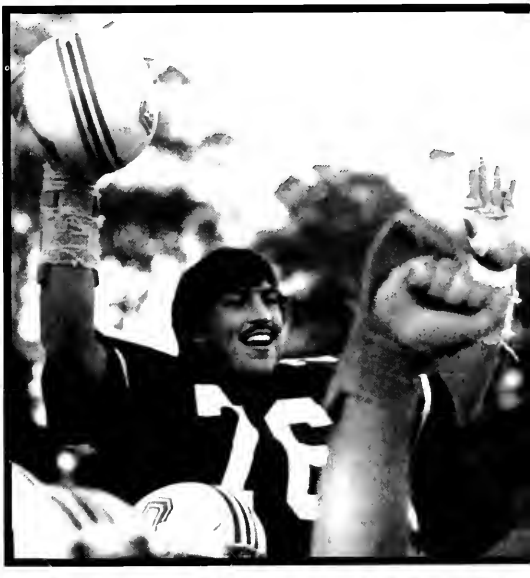
FLINN GOES OVER



The World Outside: A Year In Review

In Music:
There were many new artists appearing on the pop charts this year. They included Fiona Apple with her album "Tidal" which appeared on the best-selling charts for more than a year. The three brothers of Hansen enjoyed too much time on the airwaves especially over the summer. Paula Cole was also a powerful new addition to the Pop charts, receiving many Grammy nominations. Other newcomers to the Pop music scene were Matchbox 20, Third Eye Blind, Jewel, The Verve Pipe the Spice Girls and the Wallflowers.

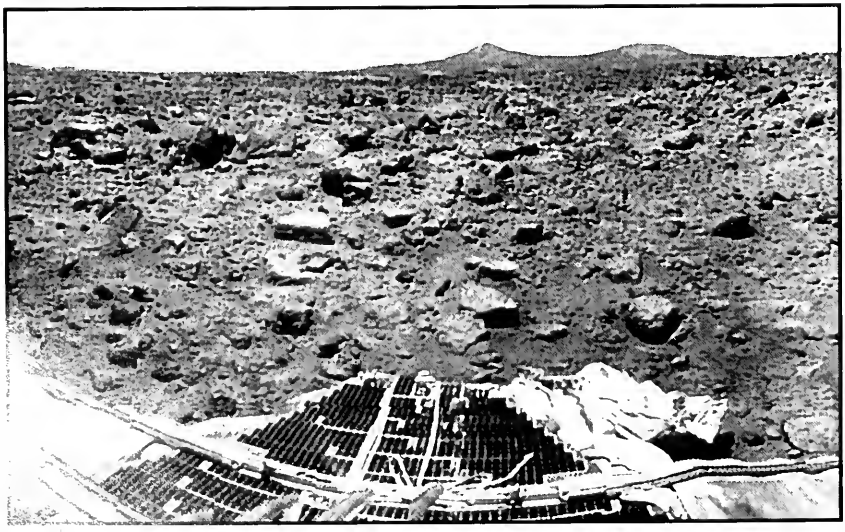
In Space:
The roving vehicle Sojourner, the first mobile explorer to land on another planet, landed on Mars and gather soil and rocks. Overcoming communications trouble and other setbacks the Sojourner left the Mars Pathfinder landing craft. The Sojourner crawled around the surface of Mars, transmitting information back to scientists on Earth

At The White House:
This year Chelsea Clinton went off to college, Stanford, and has been largely out of the media's attention. However, Bill Clinton was continually assaulted by charges of sexual harassment by Paula Jones and a few other women. The scandal with a White House intern and an alleged affair with the President is still under investigation by the independent counsel appointed by Attorney General, Janet Reno. Hillary Clinton is still sticking by her husband's side.

Below: The PathFinder.
Right: Chelsea Clinton.



In Sports:

The WNBA, Women's National Basketball Association completed it's inaugural season with the Houston Comets defeating the New York Liberty for the Championship. As the season came to a close, the WNBA announced that the eight-team league would grow to 10 teams in 1998.

In one of the most competitive games in Super Bowl history, John Elway and Terrell Davis led the Denver Broncos to a 31-24 upset of the Greenbay Packers in Super Bowl XXXII. The Broncos' first National Football League Championship ended the American conference's 13-year losing streak in the Super Bowl.

The Florida Marlins became Major League baseball's world champions in 1997, beating Cleveland Indians in the World Series. Just five Years old, the Marlins tied the Indians in the ninth inning of the seventh game and went on to win it in the eleventh inning with a score of 3-2.

Good-byes...

Mother Teresa was among the most well-known and respected women in the world in the later half of the twentieth century. In 1948 she founded a religious order of Roman Catholic nuns called the Missionaries of Charity. She dedicated her life to helping the poor, sick, and dying. Her selfless work brought her the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979.

Diana, Princess of Wales, devoted herself to charities around the world. In her death, the entire world grieved. Millions of people flooded to London to watch her body be carried to Westminster Abbey.

John Denver's optimistic songs catapulted him to fame during the 1970s. The singer had eight platinum records when his homebuilt plane crashed.

Linda McCartney died after a long battle with breast cancer. She had just completed an album with her husband Paul McCartney.

Clockwise from top: The royal family mourns the death of Diana, Mother Teresa, John Denver.

Apartment Livin'...

Finally out of the dorms and into the apartments, this year we enjoyed the freedom of living in our own apartment with our own bedrooms, a living room, and a kitchen. We were able to have keg parties, cookouts, and croquet parties. The walk up the hill is long, but who really walks it anyway? Sharing an apartment with three or four other people is not always easy, but it means there is always a roomate around. If you thought that Senior apartments were no longer RLO's control, you were wrong...they still come by for the semi-annual inspections and RAs reside in every building, to keep things under control.

Welcome to the occupation...

--KEM--

This year the seniors began to look for jobs, spending countless hours in Career Services. For some seniors, the job search was successful, and for others, merely frustrating. The smartest seniors avoided the whole job issue and opted for graduate school instead, but they too will eventually be stuck in a career services office someday trying to find a job. For many, graduation day represented the first step into a vast space of unknown opportunities.

Graduation...

I'd like to stay, but I couldn't stay with you
I have to go, there's a lot I want to do...
--"Feel Us Shaking",The Samples

On May 17, 1998 on the lawn in front of Chambers, we concluded our four years here at Davidson. It was time to say good-bye, but we will never forget our alma mater. Good luck to all of the members of the class of 1998!

Almost Finished

What have we learned after three years at the Big D?

Junior year has been a learning experience for all. Some of us went abroad, some of us stayed here, some of us chose to relive our Freshmen year, and some of us chose to live off campus. We traveled far and wide and expanded our horizons, yet we still found time to kick back, relax and appreciate our Junior year.

BOURBON, BEAST AND THE BASEMENT

Fit for a Queen: [illegible] way [illegible] best way to HANDLE [illegible] at ours.

The night of your 21st birthday is one you should never forget - or remember as the case may be. But the fun doesn't end there. At Davidson, turning 21 means joining the ranks of an elite crowd. 21 year olds can escape from the ruckus upstairs to the less crowded basement. Better yet, 21 year olds can enjoy a relaxing evening at 21 year old night, a Davidson tradition.

> "The night of your 21st birthday is one you should never forget - or remember as the case may be."

However an important question remains to be answered. Now that I am 21 and can legally carry around a case of Beast or a handle of Vladmir, am I really as responsible as the law thinks that I am? My roommate and I made a pact that we would not allow the government's faith in the responsibility levels of a 21 year old to steer us down the path of mature and rational thought- at least not yet. We figure college is the time to goof off, cut loose and enjoy our newly won privileges. So now, even though I am old enough to face the wonders of the basement, puruse the aisles of my local ABC store, and kick back with a cold one at 21 year old night, don't expect me to always choose the mature and responsible road. I tend to think it's a little dull, especially for us college kids. No, I'm putting my ID to hard work-at least until I'm 25 and can legally rent a car!

Would You Go Back?

"They bring out the side of me that is not worried about being a Senior..."

Life as a hall counselor

If someone gave you the chance to relive your freshman year in college knowing everything that you know now, would you take it? For me the answer was easy... HELL YES! I lead a charmed life. People always ask me why I didn't go abroad, itell them I did go abroad. I went to Fourth Cannon, and anyone who has ever visited my hall knows exactly what I am talking about. Everyday, I get up and open my door and there are only three or four messages from people who need me to answer questions. I am never alone for more than five minutes at a time. I have 26 roommates, regardless of the fact that I live in a single. I exist in a fishbowl. Anyone who has ever been a hall counsselor knows exactly what I am talking about.

Like I said, though, I lead a charmed life. Anyone who has ever been a hall counselor knows exactly what I am talkingabout. I love this job. Granted it has its down sides. Have you ever noticed, for example, that boyfriends always cheat on girlfriends the night before you have a huge test? Or, when you are stressing about your own boyfriend (or lack thereof in my case)? But for every late night stress session, there are countless late night spazz sessions. You know...when you stay up late and chat or go to the Waffle House. My hall has made an art of the 1 am dance party (sorry third cannon). A word of advice for future hall couselors... DO NOT BUY A NINTENDO AND THEN PUT IT IN YOUR ROOM!

Not to mention the fact that these are the coolest women that I know. I remember the night before the freshmen showed up on campus. I was staring at my ceiling imaging the worst. "Oh gosh, don't let them be annoying!" "What if someone needs me and I am not there?" Yikes! Well, it all worked out, becasue I would rather live on fourth cannon with these women than anywhere else on Earth. Well, maybe the south of France, but they would all have to come with me.

Pepe Le Pew: Emily Eagan counsels the Freshmen on the best way to fend off those friendly campus skunks.

This Bud's for you: Dan Motz, Sarah House, Erica Fenton and Davy Bacon kick back after a hard days work.

Like I said, I lead a charmed life. I have a job that requires that I hang out with the craziest and most wonderful bunch of women in the world. They bring out the side of me that is not worried about being a Senior; when I am around them, I have four more years ahead of me. Something tells me that the day I have to say goodbye to them will be one of the hardest days of my life. I think sometimes that I don't get enough oxygen up here on the fourth floor, but it's all relative...I don't get enough sleep either. I wouldn't have it any other way.

Our Little Oasis on Main Street

The Girls of 565 Main Street

Living off-campus after being abroad is probably the only way we could have come back to Davidson. We didn't have to deal with RLO, tiny dorm rooms at the top of long flights of stairs, mini refrigerators, or people pounding on the floor above us. So we don't have hallmates to bond with over 4am cramming breaks, or 20 wardrobes to choose from. We might not be able to roll out of bed and get to class within five minutes, or know what's going on on campus just by looking out the window. Big deal. We've got a front porch, a yard, two wild dogs (you've probably seen them on campus on one of their escapades, they may have tried to attack you), seperate rooms for a kitchen, a living room, and a bedroom. We can accomodate more than 20 people for a party, have kegs, and make full meals at any hour ofthe day or night. We might feel isolated at some times, but the freedom we have is worth the small price. Our little oasis on Main Street is open to anyone who needs to escape the confines of Davidson for awhile. Live off-campus, you'll have aehile new perspective on Davidson and you'll have a whole lot more fun too.

Crazy Canine: One of our favorite 565 residents.

"Suddenly you're back in drop/add."

Welcome to the Second Year

You heard the Rocky theme playing as you arrived home from your freshman year at Davidson. You had lived to tell the tale. Little did you know how fast three months could pass. Suddenly you're back in drop/add. The beauty of the situation is that while you are once again in the running of the bulls, you are now a bull with experience. So when the readings, deadlines, and impossible syllabi begin to rain down, you don't panic as you did the year before. This is good, because you want to save all of your stress reserves for choosing a major. This is bad, however, because you have managed to look beyond procrastination's evil, all-nighter side, and the two of you have become close friends. He comes to visit much more often now, because as a sophomore you know much more about what is going on.... and suddenly find yourself in charge of what's going on. While last year you ventured out with hallmates and that good old Davidson spirit to "get involved," this year you are leading unwitting freshmen into the mouth of extracurricular commitments. Maybe you are the one presiding over meetings or sending out massive voice mails. You have learned to balance the demands of Davidson's academics to be able to have fun and spend time with friends. Sophomore year is the year in limbo. The challenge lies in not getting stuck between the cracks.

Sophomore Slump

Happens to the Best of Us

No longer the new kids on campus the sophomore class learned fast that there was no transition period into the rigorous life at Davidson. Halls with familiar faces and hall mixers were things of the past. Sophomore year was a chance for some to branch out and meet new people and become more active in sports, clubs, and Patterson Courts organizations. Eager to be a part of their clubs and organizations the sophomore class took charge in leadership roles. However, there were some of us who suffered from the sophomore slump.

I vividly remember being a naive freshman talking to one of my good friends and saying to him "sophomore slump... no not me". He just laughed at me and said that everyone goes through some rough times their sophomore year. Ironically a year later I understood what he meant by the sophomore slump. Nevertheless the class of 2000 has survived the sophomore slump. We have made it through two years of the emotional roller coaster of being a Davidson student. We are looking forward to the next two years being even better than the first two!

Sophomore Nation

This year, sophomores have a choice in living accommodations-- they can live up the hill or down. Despite the long walk, many choose to live down the hill in the dorms affectionately referred to as "sophomore nation." Many on campus refer to this as the sophomore year abroad. Sophomores enjoy the "nation," including Knox, Akers, and Irwin; for they are surrounded by their classmates. They also have direct access to the intramural fields, important for IMAC and other activities. The "nation" is also close to Patterson court, and as far as possible from Chambers, helping sophomores shift their focus to the more important parts of Davidson life.

Middle: Allison Dolph, Ina Spechar, Amanda Rittenhouse, Susie Schuhart, Cindy Clark, and Sarah Sofia hanging out on the court.

Sophomores Take Action

Choosing a Major

Just when you were enjoying the diversity of the classes offered at Davidson, you have to pick a major. Up until now you have had the freedom of taking whatever you wanted, trying to eliminate the pesky core requirements. You have finally done it, finally finished them. Now they want you to pick a major. Do you pick History because it is easy? Or French, so you can spend a year in France? Maybe English because you have taken three credits already? What about Biology, to go to Medical School? Or Economics, so that you can get a job when you graduate? You are confused, what do you pick? You'd better hurry up and do it so that you can return as a Junior in the fall!

The Odyssey

During the summer of transition from ome life to college life, some bold freshmen noose to embark on an adventure in the oods and water of North Carolina and ennessee--The Odyssey. When I walked into ne then foreign College Union last summer, was a little apprehensive about meeting my ew peers. After dividing into groups and etting past the initial awkward introduc- ions, our odyssey truly began. We hiked the .T, canoed the French Broad and did service o our community. The Davidson Odyssey is n experience that challenges the body(we're alkin' blisters baby), the mind and charac- er. Until early last July I had never battled river or laid on top of a bald mountain and atched the stars go by. Apart from out- oor activities, the Odyssey also entails a ervice component that left everyone with a ense of accomplishment and goodwill. After ll the blisters healed, I finally got a shower, ome dry underwear and a good meal; I ealized I had made some of the best riends of my life. I came back to Davidson n August not apprehensive about meeting eople, but rather looking for my new friends nd ready to make a lot more. I wouldn't trade the Odyssey experience for anything- there's not much I wouldn't give to be back on the French Broad with all the kids from Crew Three. Four stars . . .

let them eat cake

I couldn't help thinking about gaining the freshmen 15 in 5 minutes as I stuffed my face with cake. I had just finished running the Cake Race, a freshman tradition, and with the help of my friends was devouring my victory cake. Surrounded by new hallmates and fellow cross country team members, I think most of the cake ended up on us as a result of a spontaneous cake fight. The Cake Race was a lot of fun because it gave everyone who participated another chance to bond with members of our class. The cross country team started the race together, but I ran with many different people during the 3 mile course. I have been running track and cross country since 7th grade so I have competed in many meets, but the Cake Race was definitely one of the most enjoyable running experiences I've ever had. I think the Cake Race is a great tradition, and it's a great memory to have as my first run at Davidson. -Jill Neumayer

The First Rich Wonderteam: 1997 Flickerball Champions

Our only loss of the season came in Week 5 to an experienced Warner Hall Club. Our coaching duties were almost extended to include emergency medical care as our hung-over and irritable quarterback repeatedly tackled and/or headbutted the opposition in frustration over our complete lack of offense. Not even a loin-cloth-clad madman screaming from the sidelines could lift our spirits that day. 2-0 was the final.

Three weeks later, that ordeal was well behind us. Coach Houser in his Woo-Tang toboggan, Coach Sukenik in his full brown corduroy leisure suit, Coach Roberts in his flamenco gear, a raving mad Coach Cockrill in full loin-cloth splendor and myself donning my neoprene head-gasket and hawaiian jersey all madly dashed to the end-zone in hot pursuit of our First Rich Wonderteam. The Aduh Sneak and Roll had worked again and our pre-season dreams of the oft-sought yet rarely-begotten "Intramural Champion" t-shirts had been fulfilled. The blocks had all been key, the passes tight and the catches clean.

Oh, the sweet joys of a Flickerball Sunday!

1st Belk: Brother & Sister Halls

Fresh from the shower, I trudged my way through first east Belk in my fuzzy green towel and Nike sandals. As I approached my door, I realized that in a tired haze I had forgotten my key. My search for a male hall counselor yielded no success and I was forced to cross over to the other side. With a confident strut I swaggered to the west side, the girls portion of Belk dormitory. I actually stopped along the way to have a couple of conversations with some pretty ladies(who were all clothed). I still remember all the compliments on my well-toned body. But, after realizing how cold I was, I broke free from the ladies and tracked down a hall counselor to let me into my room. While walking back with her I realized just how kickin' coed halls are.

Allow me to clarify something first. Mike and well-toned are not two words heard in the same sentence. With that out of the way, I must say that I agree with everything else he said. Living on first west Belk has been a great experience. I have had endless opportunities to make lasting friendships with members of the opposite sex. In addition, they are very good in a pinch when it comes to date functions. Just a few feet away, you can take your pick from the wealth of men that Davidson(and more specifically first Belk) has to offer.

The close proximity of the sexes has allowed for endless friendships to grow. Visitations are not a big hassle in a coed dorm; it is normal to see members of the opposite sex wandering around in pyjamas. This freedom has been instrumental in the forming of friendships. As we have discovered throughout the year, most bonds are tightened in the late night and early morning hours while students are procrastinating. Furthermore, the closeness makes friendships easier to grow because there is not as much sexual tension. When you see one another walking around in towels and in pyjamas, a certain type of relationship grows. You can actually converse with the opposite sex without there being the stigma of a hook-up on the horizon.

Speaking as a girl on a coed hall, I can say that guys smell funny and do strange "guy" things. I never realized this phenomenon before I came to Belk, but it has become a point of interest for me. There is a distinct difference in the smell on each half of the hall. In addition, I have been a first-hand witness to the childish antics of 18-year-old boys . Streaking, stupid pranks, Ed in a Speedo with mistletoe around his genitalia...the list goes on and on. These diversions provide a nice break from the academic rigors of this fine institution.

Living in a coed hall has become such a comfortable and normal part of life. We are still in awe when upperclassmen express their shock that Belk has gone co-ed. We just can't imagine how much their lives sucked.

Activities

Union

What is the Union Board? The Union Board is a bunch of funky individuals who spend most of their free time trying to help other members of the Davidson College Community spend their free time. They plan everything from concerts to speakers to films in order to make the Davidson experience not only more fun but also educational outside the classroom.

Yearly Union traditions include events such as the Odyssey, Lunar Luau, the Magical Mystery Tour, the Fall Concert, the Campus Christmas Party, and Spring Frolics. Over the past few years, the Union Board has spent a lot of effort and thought to increase weekend programming.

Every Saturday night, the Union sponsors an event, not to mention the hundreds of other things they do throughout the year. On almost any given day, the Union Board has planned something. Some of the special events this year have been a juggling festival, the Second City Comedy Troupe, an African American film festival, and the Spring Frolics Midnight Breakfast, which drew about 400 hungry students to the 900 Room!

Another very special feat supported by the Union Board was a production of "Hair" outside on the steps of Chambers. An entirely student-fun production, "Hair" was dedicated in memory of Zac Lacy, former Davidson student, active member of the Union Board, and the Union night manager. Losing Zac early in the fall was a very difficult time for the whole Davidson community, but was especially trying for the Union Board and staff. Despite the great loss, the Union has pulled through to have a great year overall.

1997-1998 President Matthew Hobbie spent much of this past year working on the New Union Planning Committee to select architects for the gigantic project. The 1998-1999 President Cintra Pollack will continue the work towards a new Union by working with the architects and other members of the Davidson community to design the building. It is an exciting time of growth for all involved in Union activities.

Honor

The Honor Council had tentative beginnings before the Civil War when a Davidson College education cost $200 a year. Offenses that came before the Honor Council during those early years included playing cards, shooting firearms, riding horses through Chambers, and the "crimes of drunkenness and lewdness." Although the Code has taken more of an academic than social turn over the century, the atmosphere of trust and moral integrity continues to distinguish Davidson College. Like in years long past, members of the Honor Council are elected by the student body twice a year and remain on the Council until seniors. Over the past academic year, the Council held small group discussions during Freshmen Orientation, sponsored hall programs, and deliberated during hearings of Honor Code violations. This past year was marked by a number of open Honor Council hearings to the Davidson community and revisions to the Honor Code for greater clarification of its basic terms.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa is the national leadership honors society. This year, the organization was extremely active at Davidson. We were pleased to have Ambassador Jack Perry speak at the initiation banquet for new members in March. The group also presented three awards at convocation to outstanding members of the Davidson community, staff, and faculty. The awards were presented to Bruce McMillen, Rosemary Turner, and Laurence Cain, respectively. This year, for the first time, an awards banquet was held by ODK for outstanding members of Davidson organizations. The event was organized by Liz Boehmler and hopefully will become an annual tradition.

SGA

This year the SGA has been very active. The organization continued to support and run the Vamonos Van. As well, the body helped sponsor diversity activities during the semester. One of the biggest accomplishments was getting student representation on two of the Trustee Committees, the Finance and Budget and Academic and Educational Policies. Students are now represented on all Trustee Committees. The SGA also held the annual SGA Day where the senators flipped hot dogs and burgers for the students of the SGA. It also gave the opportunity for many students to get involved with the organization through Faculty Committees. One other project that highlighted the year was the approval of the ATC Budget. The year has been tremendous, and the organization looks forward to making the years to come the same.

The Davidsonian

Davidsonian

Why? It's a question we, The Davidsonian staff, seem to ask ourselves frequently. We're understaffed and underappreciated. We toil in a tiny room at the top of the Union for thirty-something hours a week, often at the expense of sleep, academics, and a social life. And for what?

The answer is simple: Our goal is to put out a superior paper every week. We strive to overcome our hindrances and excel at reporting on issues concerning you, the Davidson community--and we do it gladly. The Davidsonian is our priority, our life. We have truly earned the title of "The Nation's Foremost College Weekly."

Photography Club

Due to the hard work and dedication of Amber Worrell, Matt Clifford, Matt West, and Rachel Wippold, the very first year of the Davidson College Photography Club was a success. Not only did the club manage to receive ATC funding for their first semester but also the Photography Club will be present on campus next year! This year's officers performed so well that they will return again in the fall. The president, Worrell, vice president, Clifford, and secretary, Wippold, were recognized by Omicron Delta Kappa as outstanding members of a student organization.

Started by four freshmen in the fall of 1997, the main objective of the club is to raise awareness of photography as an art form on the Davidson College campus. The club is open to all of Davidson College and the surrounding community to encourage interaction between the two. Part of the club's successes this past year includes the organization of a photography show in the Union Gallery, various workshops, and the orchestration of the Davidson Arts Festival.

WALT

This year WALT has been more active than ever! We have seen a change in location (from the basement of Belk dorm to Johnston Gym) as well as an increase in listenership and participation. There are now more than ninety student DJ's making us one of the largest organizations on campus! Currently, WALT 1610 AM broadcasts a variety of music and campus news for a total of ninety hours a week. This year also saw the beginnings of a move towards an FM WALT, and steps towards being played in the Union. The WALT 97-98 Executive Council was: Ed Anderson (tech director), Elizabeth Coleman (news director), Doug Meislahn (music director), Anne Nickel (promotions), Jennifer Simmons (program director), Matthew Staton (station manager), and Sandra Symes (secretary).

Chamber Singers

The 1997-1998 Davidson College Concert Choir and Chamber Singers enjoyed an outstanding year of performances including Christmas Vespers, the Spring Concert Tour, and the world premiere opera, "Madness Rules the Hour." Under the excellent direction of Dr. Donna Di Grazia, the Concert Choir consisted of eighty members while the Chamber Singers included twenty-two members. Diane Krause '98 and Jeff Hwang '98 served as conducting assistants. The choir officers for 1997-98 were Abigail Showalter '98, president; Samantha Balsam '97, vice president; David Santschi '98, secretary; and Dana Dixon '98, choral librarian. Our repertoire featured works by English composers including Byrd, Tallis, and Britten.

The highlight of our year was the Spring Tour to the northeast. The choirs performed in Durham, NC, Lewisburg, PA, Basking Ridge, NJ, and Princeton, NJ. Our recreational destinations included New York City and Washington, D.C.

In the four years Dr. Di Grazia has conducted the choirs, our membership has doubled. Challenging our artistry and commitment to music, Dr. Di Grazia has transformed the choral program at Davidson. We wish her continuing success in her new position at Pomona College in Southern California. Her presence will be greatly missed.

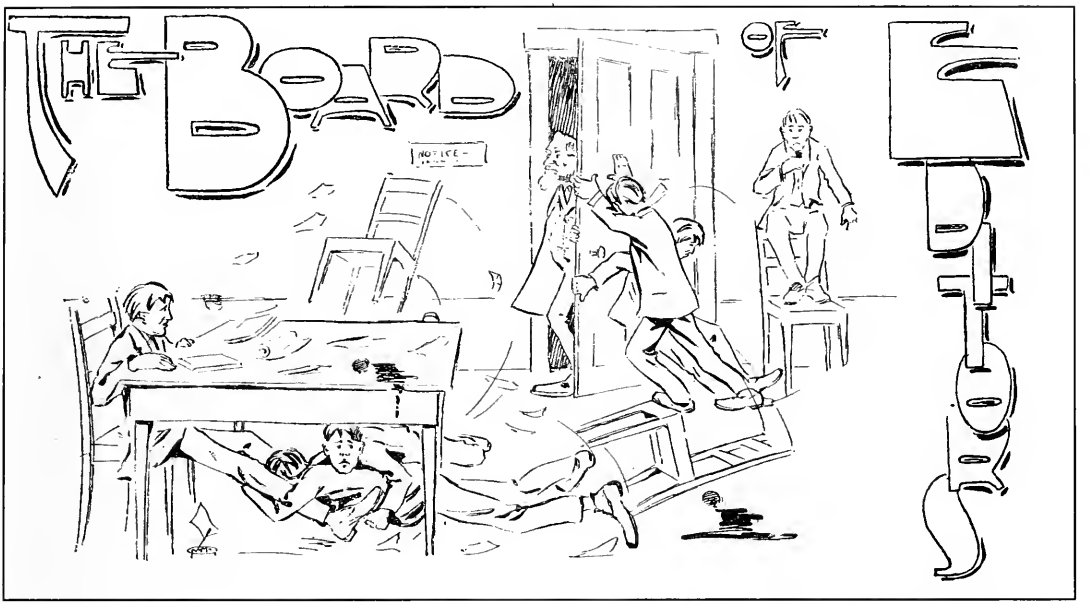
Quips And Cranks



Above: A average day at the Quips and Cranks office. This cartoon was taken from the 1898 Quips and Cranks, the first yearbook published at Davidson College.

Sweat from his brow falls onto the keyboard . . . Drip . . . Drip . . . Drip.
The low ceilings and permanently closed windows make him claustrophobic. He hyperventilates.
Another editor enters the room, needing to use the computer for "just one second, I promise."
. . . Four hours later . . . He is finally back, his sweat once again on the spacebar.
It is late at night. When will this ever end!?!
. . . Late August. The boxes arrive. "Are there any mistakes?" he asks himself. No mistakes . . . he is relieved. He goes back to his room, delighted with his work. The phone rings.
. . . "We are having our first yearbook meeting tonight. We sure would like you to come!"
AHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!!!

The ISA, 1997-98;

The ISA is Davidson College's International Student Association, comprised mostly of international students attending Davidson. The ISA meets frequently to have discussions and plan upcoming events. This year, the ISA sponsored such events as International Kids Day, where kids from the area came to learn about things they would not be taught in school about the rest of the world. Besides getting to take part in many activities like making art from foreign nations, they were highly entertained. The ISA looks forward to a bright 1998-99 school year.

Dean Rusk

Dean Rusk Student Advisory Committee - 1997-98

This year, the Dean Rusk Student Advisory Committee, the student branch of the larger Dean Rusk Program, sought new ways to enrich the lives of Davidson College students by offering opportunities to learn about current international events and cultures. Students who received Dean Rusk grants for study abroad brought slides and stories to share at the SAC's bi-monthly meetings. Speakers and panels covered subjects from the ethnic conflict in Kosovo to readings by Haitian author Edwidge Dandicat, bringing Davidson faculty and staff together for lunch-time discussion of international issues, giving students and faculty additional time to interact outside of the classroom. "The Toilet Paper," the Dean Rusk sponsored newsletter, so-named because it is taped on the doors of the bathroom stalls, covered more international events than ever before.

The new executive board, drawing from the energy of the old, set out to increase the number of faculty speakers, host more social events, and cooperate more with the International Students Association to expose more students to different cultures, from foods and dances to politics. This spring, the officers faced the additional challenge of preparing the SAC to say goodbye to our beloved intern, Elanor Hatcher, whose inspiration and leadership sparked the many successes of the SAC year. Because of a handful of superbly committed members, the SAC added smaller, more efficient committees to ensure that more students are able to be involved in both the planning and the experiences of the Dean Rusk Program. Thanks to the student members, Dean Rusk was once again able to repeat and even exceed the successes of previous years.

Reach

Reach Out, an umbrella organization for twenty-one student-run service programs, seeks to promote service opportunities for Davidson students and to increase interaction with the surrounding community.

The 1997-98 school year was a successful year for Reach Out and the college's service program in general. The CROP walk was a great success, raising over $8,000 on one of the rainiest days of the year! Into the Streets organized another two week "service revival" in the fall which provided numerous service opportunities and speakers. The Ada Jenkins Center's renovation efforts continued throughout the year under the direction of Catherine Turner and the Service Saturdays program. Finally, Meredith Judy and the Environmental Action Coalition sponsored Dr. David Orr's lecture on environmentalism and service-learning.

One of the greatest accomplishments in the service program, however, was not sponsored by a Reach Out program. The development and establishment of the new "Service Council" as the new umbrella organization on campus promises to be a great step toward meeting all of the service needs of the Davidson community. Reach Out played a pivotal role in this change and is dedicated to making the community service program a success.

The 1997-98 Reach Out officers include: BJ Huff, president; Sakira Peay, vice president; Helen Robinson, publicity chair; Katherine Davis, secretary; Patricia Evans, historian; and Gee Muwwakkil, treasurer.

Rape Awareness

The Rape Awareness Committee was established this year in order to fill a void for rape victims on the Davidson College campus. Budding from a handful of interested students and support from the incredible Georgia Ringle, we have sprouted into a chartered organization composed of three individuals, yet equally pertinent, subcommittees. In order to establish our goal of a more accepting and safer environment for rape victims and the necessary prevention thereof, the First Responders, Policy, and Education subcommittees have surfaced. The First Responders provide an initial counseling service for rape victims that is accessible any day at any time while classes are in session. We are confidential listeners, willing to drive victims to the hospital, and help them file a formal report if they so choose.

Upon realizing that our sexual misconduct policy was not a vision of perfection, the Policy subcommittees researched policies from an extensive list of schools and thereby acted as advisors to the policy review committee appointed by our president, Bobby Vagt. This new policy which incorporates all of our suggestions will be available for students in the 1998-99 Red Book.

The third part of our triumverate organization, the Education subcommittee, has dedicated itself to educating the campus about rape and prevention thereof. Programs are available for halls and Patterson Court houses in attempt to reach the entire campus. We have accomplished amazing amounts this year, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has worked so hard to make my vision a reality. Keep it up and Good luck next year!

-Tina Kanter, president

Rape Awareness Committee Officers, 1997-98:

Tina Kanter - President

Meredith Beattie - Vice President

Whitney Davis - Treasurer; Elizabeth Fleming - Secretary

Rape. It is a word heavily ladden with meaning, a burden you shoulder gingerly, if at all, when it is brought up in discussion. Of course, such discussion might be hard to find, as avoidance is the creed of Davidson College campus, silence an accepted behavior. In our efforts to conform, we ignore, and we remove ourselves from a problem that is as pervasive at Davidson College as it is in society in general. The safe protective bubble atmosphere is true to a certain extent. We do live, study, work, and party on a campus of great safety, upheld by a stellar, if recently reduced, police department. But what happens when something pierces that illusion, when something happens "that isn't supposed to happen at colleges like this," like an act of unwanted sexual aggression, to the point of rape? Who is there to help?

In taking a proactive stand on rape and its blatant disregard on the Davidson campus, the Rape Awareness Committee was started soon after Katie Koestner spoke to us this fall semester. Our goal is that the tangible care and support victims of sexual aggression need will be available, and given productively. As a committee, we acknowledge our primary directive as being there for victims. However, part of that encompasses helping to prevent rape. To this end we are endeavoring to educate the campus at large, and will expand this program in the coming year.

-Meredith Beattie, vice-president

SHOC

Student Health Options and Concerns (SHOC) promoted wellness on campus. The organization attempts to provide programs, activities and information outside of what the Health Center does. This year, SHOC held "Monday Mania: A Feel Good Series" which included workshops in meditation, yoga, time management, and nutrition. SHOC has also become well-known for its Mocktails, served every year during Alcohol Awareness Week, and its massage workshops on reading day before exams.

FLAG

Friends of Lesbians and Gays works to educate the Davidson campus about homosexuality and bisexuality, and attempts to increase tolerance for homosexuality on our campus. We want to preserve the rights of the gay, lesbian, and bisexual community on campus, and insure that our campus is a safe and comfortable place for every individual, regardless of their sexual orientation.

During PE 101 classes in the fall, Emmi Happoldt and Irene Middleton spoke to all freshmen about increasing acceptance of homosexuality on the Davidson campus. Also in the fall, we introduced an activity focused on sparking discussion between faculty and students. We read short stories with themes of sexuality, then gathered to discuss those themes and their relevance to Davidson College.

In the spring semester, FLAG was busy hosting the fourth annual FLAG Fashion Show. The show was a huge success drawing a crowd of 400 spectators and at least 100 student models and workers. The fashion show earned $1300 which we donated to Arosa House, Time Out Youth and the Zac Lacy Book Fund. We co-sponsored Dean Hammer, a researcher in the field of genetics. He spoke to a crowd of 80 students and faculty about the role of genetics in homosexuality. Later in the semester FLAG hosted the Eighth Annual Sexuality Forum in which students, faculty, and staff discussed sexuality by sharing their personal views, experiences, and concerns. FLAG also co-sponsored the student-run production of the musical "Hair."

Next year we hope to sponsor a film festival which will initiate communication on issues of homosexuality. We also look forward to next years' Fashion Show, Forum, and speakers.

The Pre-Law Society has had an active year serving the needs of prospective law school applicants. Davidson proudly boasts forty-five successful applicants from the student body and alumni. Thirty-eight intrepid wildcats will be filling the seats of first-year law school classes throughout the country this fall. Much of the admission success of the College process can be attributed to the diligent efforts of the Faculty Pre-Law Advisors, Dr. Mary Thornberry and Dr. John Werthheimer (who was on leave this spring). From reading personal statements to advising students on appropriate law schools, these advisors are committed to giving Davidson students the best possible chance of admission. Also, without the tireless efforts of Mr. Tony Butchello, our Career Services Liaison, many of this year's functions would not have been possible.

With almost one hundred members of the society, the Pre-Law Society attempts to give its members a realistic view of both the study and the practice of law. Bill Cameron '98, and Tom Kapioltas '98, co-chairs of the Executive Committee for 1996, handed off leadership in 1997 to an eager new group. The new Executive Committee is excited to follow in their footsteps by continuing to expand the role of the Society in campus life. The traditional Senior Panel and the afternoon trip to Moore & Van Allen were just two of the well-received events sponsored by the society this spring. As the society looks to the challenging nature of law in the future, the membership will remain focused on the community's needs.

College Republicans

The College Republicans organization grew by leaps and bounds this year, as we worked diligently to organize and geared up for the upcoming 1998 election cycle. Aided by the enthusiasm of our members, our active membership grew from about ten to close to thirty, and we expect an even greater increase next year with the elections coming up. Our organization was active and busy creating an organizational system that will be able to handle the election-year activities coming up. Most notably, we attended the North Carolina Federation of College Republicans' annual convention in Greensboro, created a homepage (check it out), had Mr. Richard Vinroot come speak to us, started a College Republican library in the Union and began monthly group discussions on hot political topics. Overall, this year was an exciting and successful year for the College Republicans, and we look forward to even more activity in the fall.

College Democrats

Quips and Cranks has absolutely no clue what the College Democrats did this year. For that matter, we don't even know if they exist on campus any more. We think they do. Assuming that they still have an active organization on campus, they possibly talked about many hot politcal topics in periodic group discussions. They might have even gotten a speaker on campus. They could have a webpage (if so, check that out). In summary, College Democrats, being that they exist, have some members and do some things.

Eumenean Society

The Eumenean society carried on the tradition this year of being the oldest organization on Davidson's campus. The Eus met bi-weekly to discuss topics like gender equality and cloning. Literary readings were lively, and the spring semester saw the unveiling of great original works from Greg Russell's honors thesis as well as a yet-unfinished piece of epic poetry (definitely a neglected medium) by Rosemary Schmidt. Another tradition kept alive by the society was the rivalry with Phi. The society set up a 18th century French duel administered by Fencing club president Hendi Fink, in which Eu's champion soundly defeated Phi's by a score of 15 touches to nine. Phi quickly learned its lesson and was wise to decline the Eumenean society's challenge of an open-air debate. We can only hope that next year's Phis will have more gumption.

Finally, the Eumenean society quiz bowl team enjoyed the good fortune of winning the school tournament. The Eus then had the honor of representing the entire college at the Regional quiz bowl tournament in Knoxville, where the team placed fourth. The society said goodbye to one senior, Greg Russel this year and the rest of the Eus shall return to Davidson in the fall, so that the society's tradition of fellowship, learning and good will might continue.

Philanthropic Society

The Philanthropic Society is a society devoted to the celebration of literature. The society was founded in June of 1837, shortly after Davidson College opened. In the early days of Davidson College, the Philanthropic Society was one of the two major centers of student activity on campus, and supported the development of fellowship, oratorical skills, and took part in debates with the Eumenean Society. Today, the Philanthropic Society still supports the development of fellowship and oratorical skills, though the debates with the Eumenean Society have sadly come to an end. In 1997-98, society members presented readings on numerous topics, some of which were War and Peace, Drinking Stories, Travel Stories, Valentine's Day, Failure, Fun and Games, and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. Members also presented original works of poetry and prose to the Society.

Chapel Committee

The 1997-98 Chapel Committee: Liz Clasen, Jen Bencler, Ann Culp, Sara Davis, Adam Sanders, Pam Hockert, Elizabeth Malphurs, Joe Hayworth, Emily Katzfey, and Michelle Markey

Chapel Committee is a Christian fellowship group which explores the connection between faith and service. The group meets weekly to hear a speech, study scripture, or share a meal. Chapel Committee sponsored several events including the Alternative Gift Market, Fast for Sanity, Spring Break trip to El Salvador, and "Room in the Inn."

Hey!!!!!!!

Hey!!!!!!! As you will see in this Activities section of this edition of Quips and Cranks, not all activities at Davidson College were represented. If you feel like a certain activity of which you are a member was not publicized in the Quips and Cranks, do something about it! That way, your activity will be in next year's edition. If you are wondering why your activity wasn't in this year's, ask the president of your club. If he/she was never contacted by us, talk to those at the Union responsible for the Davidson College Activity List. Then, your activity will be included. Promise!

Davidson Dance Troupe

The Davidson Dance Troupe is comprised of nine members who devote Sunday afternoons to the Baker Dance Studio. The troupe itself has a background of classical, modern, and competitive training. One of the highlights of this year was a workshop in belly dancing by the troupe's sponsor, Jan Blodgett. Three original pieces were added to the company's repertoire this year, which were "Rainbow to Fetal" by Laura Taylor, "Dawning" by Erin Steffensmeier and Angela Letizia, and "O Davidson" by Carrie Van Deest. The co-directors, Carrie Van Deest and Erin Steffensmeier, led the troupe to a new level by their leadership. Dance Troupe is a yearly commitment and rehearsals increase in intensity as the year progresses. In the spring, the Dance Troupe sponsors Neglected Arts Night, an annual free-form performance venue that encompasses music, dance, poetry, juggling, and a myriad of other talents. The Dance Troupe is an opportunity for members to share their love for the art of dance and fills a void that would otherwise exist in the arts program.

Tour Guides/ Work Study

The 1997-98 Quips and Cranks staff would just like to take some time (and a page) to thank those who volunteer and work at various offices around campus. Without your efforts and hard work, Davidson would not be the same (and a whole lot more expensive).

We would especially like to extend our gratitude to the tour guides who lure every high school senior to Davidson college. The admission office recognizes your huge role in attracting prospective students. We, the Quips and Cranks staff agree. So, thank you Tour Guides.

And thank you all!

Sincerely,

The 1997-98 Quips and Cranks Staff

D.O.R.K.

D.O.R.K. (Davidson Organization for Recruiting Kids) did not get its charter or funding this year from the ATC. Quips and Cranks saw the need to have a special recruiting committee. So, we founded D.O.R.K. There is no specific activity for the D.O.R.K.s, but they remain very active anyway.

Top Left: "Golly gee, come to Davidson please!"

W.E.I.R.D.

Quips and Cranks also saw the need to create W.E.I.R.D (Wildcats: Everyone Is Really Drunk) just because we felt like it. W.E.I.R.D. like D.O.R.K., is currently unchartered and unfunded by the ATC. W.E.I.R.D. would like to sponsor Alcoholics Day, where alcoholics from everywhere would come to learn about the growing alcohol problem in America. The money raised on that day would go to having a huge beer bash the next weekend.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Our Dream Girl was the dreamiest. Our '73 Camaro was the fastest. And we put the Ratt in Fratt. We are Beta Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha and this is our story.

The impending millennium, coupled withthe threat of Mustard Boy, inspired this year's Beta to search for what Baudelaire termed "the eternal within the transitory." Armed with only three chords and the truth, brothers could be seen around campus orally encouraging other in fields ranging from apparel (a common faux pas is to wear leather accessories that do not match) to zealous behavior towards furniture. As ideal men, the brothers of PiKA really care about timeless things, and want others to care too. And caring made it a year of love - frat love.

Although academic levels at Beta chapter could hardly be improved, a tradition began this year rewarding consistent class attendance with kind celebrations of (orange) jubilee. Speaking of scholarship, our influence spanned far beyond the Corntown-Davidson-RaceCity triangle. Eurobeta and Beta-Down-Under pulled strong pledge classes once again, broadening our global hegemony while teaching foreigners to respect an American way of life. Note: former brothers and South Iredell Coaches Lonnie ('95), Ronnie ('97), and Donnie ('97) held breifings about Commies prior to departures for foreign locales. Those involved in various de-breifings throughout the year asked their names be unmentioned.

PiKA recieved zero social violations. We did recieve personal thanks from authority figures for the tender hotdogs and contributions to the arts and weflre of the community. Guest musicians included John Tesh and Buffett. Snake-handling Party, new for this year, recieved a big thumbs-up from the entire campus. While some people see parties as superficial time to let off stesam and have fun, a PiKA parti also strives to cultivate, leaving those who attend a little wiser or intelligent than before. For example, this year's Anything For Money provided the equivocal correspondence degree in finance. So don't be afraid. The brothers who know you like you a lot. And the brothers who don't, want to know you better.

Although the Two and Basin continue to be centers for contemplating the transcendent colors of garnet and gold, our devotions will forever reside in the house that Rev. Patterson (a Beta) built. The basement is divinely clean. The couches are fashionably upholstered. The foos table and Zeus have souls of their own. As we all continually strive to be nobler Greeks, we feel safe in the assurance that we can always return to the eternal frat house; we live by creeds painted on its doors and walls, banged in its ceiling tiles, and spoked or shouted there between brothers for life.

P.S. Whoever stole the skull, we know who you are. You'll be sorry. DFWB

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Leaders among men

This has been another banner year for the brothers of Sig Ep. Cleaning up at the regional conference inRichmond, NC, Epsilon brougn home every award possible including recognition for most manpower, second largest pledge class in the nation, and highest in all campus GPA maintaining just over a 3.2 at the end of Spring semester. This feat was surpassed only by the return of Phoenix with another Buchanan cup which is the most prestigious award possible representing the very top of all chapters in the nation.

The brothers were a driving force in almost every facet of campus life. They boasted several SGA representatives, honor council members, and student solicitors. Also, the brotherhood included four Davidson Outdoor trip leaders, a SCUBA instructor, varsity athletes, and captains of the club soccer team. In the musical arena, brothers participated in the Jazz Band, Wind Ensemble, Pep Band, College chorus, and Symphony Orchestra (including one student conductor). Varsity basketball players, accomplished actors/directors, Phi Beta Kappa members, ODK members, Bonner scholars, Pre-Med and Pre-Law students-Sig Ep is the embodiment of diversity.

The social scene was alive with the ever popular Eighties party, the second annual Cigar party, and a First Night Down which was unparalleled as the brothers played football and then partied hard with Junkfood Buddha followed only a few weeks later with a stellar homecoming performance by Everything. Brothers road tripped, took off on ski weekends, and hung out in the famous "tree." Always looking to give back to the community, the brotherhood sacrificed time, effort, money, as well as some sweat and tears for their community service projects. These included SPE Jeopardy, volunteer work for the Ada Jenkins Center, and a haunted house for local children on Halloween, as well as many other individual projects that ranged from medical volunteers in Africa to Cub Scout Den Leaders. The brotherhood unarguably ate better than anyone else on the campus thanks to the culinary expertise of the reknowned Dennis and Dixie. From Sesame chicken to Snow crab, no one else could compete. The swing recieved a face lift, and the basement got an overhaul as the heated massage couches have developed repuatations of infamy and decadence. Most importantly though, the brotherhood maintained its close-knit unity. The year just could not have gone better at Sig Ep.

The Outpost

The Union Outpost, strategically placed on the Patterson Court, has been a mecca for hungry post-partiers since it's birth. It is also central to the artistic life of the college, providing a forum for poetry readings, musical performances, and endeavors with finger paint.

This was truly the year of the Outpost, with the inauguration of the new delivery cart, and its brightly painted walls. The Outpost and its proponents even succeeded in shattering the widely held misconception that the beef quesadillas only taste good when you're drunk.

Connor House

The women of Connor saw another year of service, scholarship, and socializing. The members of Connor are a diverse group of women whose activities encompass student government, music, theater, athletics, serving as hall counselors, and many other committees and clubs. Receiving the Patterson Court Scholarship award and the John M. Belk Scholarship Award for fraternities and eating houses, Connor women demonstrate that Davidson students can work hard and still have a good time. Service is a very important component of Connor. This year, Connor members have raised money for breast cancer research, helped in the Davidson community, raised hunger awareness, and tutored children just to highlight a few of the service projects in which Connor participates. The social highlights of Fall semester included Connor's annual semi-formal, Crush Party, Housewarming, and Christmas Cocktails. The semi-formal this year had a Roaring Twenties theme and many of the members came decked out in twenties attire. Fall semester also brought many weekend parties where all the houses came together to have a great time. Spring semester began with a bang at the annual Self-selection celebration. The new freshmen members were ushered in champagne-style. Screw Your Sister gave big and little sisters a chance to select the perfect date for each other. Formal is always the highlight of Spring, and the Connor women stepped out in style to dance the night away. As youngest house on Patterson Court, Connor continues in its grand tradition of working hard and playing hard all year long.

Late-night jester fun.

Phi Delta Theta

The brothers of Phi Delta Theta proved once again that success can be achieved in all areas. The Phi Delts maintained our great heritage of excellence and leadership, academics, athletics, and style for another strong year. Many brothers held positions of importance throughout campus activities including SGA treasurer. In addition, the brothers were very active in community service such as Big Brother programs and sponsoring our always successful Golfing for Gehrig golf tournament to raise money to battle ALS.

Athletics also play an important role in the life of the Phis. The football players had great success in the hundredth year of Davidson football, especially the eight seniors to whom we wish the best of luck after college. In addition, Phi Delts played very important roles in baseball, tennis, golf, rugby and wrestling.

Finally, our style once again shone brightly this year with the greatness of our party scene. The perennial favorites- Toga, Airband, and Ladies Night- continued to pack the house, while the Blacklight Beach Party proved, in its second year, that it's a hot time. Likewise, our impromptus overshadowed the campus on those quiet nights with bass pumpin' and booty shakin' all night long. We're also not afraid to get dressed up for all those fine date functions either. Homecoming, Christmas Cocktails, Midwinters, and Spring Frolics proved to be fun for both brothers and their beautiful dates. We'll miss many great brothers, with the departure of 21 senior Phis; however, a good pledge class will help maintain the level of excellence that has come to be expected from the brothers of Phi Delta Theta.

Toga! Jeff Kessler, Brad Boland, and Ellis Boyle model the wrold's oldest fashion statement.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The true gentlemen of Sigma Alpha Epsilon had an outstanding year this year on Patterson Court. Even before school started, the Hoddy House showed its commitment to service by producing and selling the annual charity calendar to benefit the Little Library. But what the Hods will remember most about this past year is not the countless hours of community service the house logged in, but the extraordinary pledge class that this year's fervent Rush produced, and the camaraderie that came out of the various social events and brotherhoods. Headed by David Bashford and Brian Blythe, this year's Rush brought together fourteen highly motivated, closely-knit pledge brothers.

But it wasn't all fun and games for SAE. The brothers came together for such community service events as the Merge Festival in downtown Charlotte, the charity pasta dinner for the Bone Marrow Drive, a speaker on the effects of drunk driving, and our biggest money producer, the Charity Calendar. Our valiant effort in the realm of community service this fall along with last spring spurred us on to win the community service award for Patterson Court. The Hoddy House has indeed pulled off itself up by the bootstraps after last year's hard times.

For fun the Hods sponsored many parties in the fall, both on campus and off, which featured such bands as Travis Allison, Blue Miracle, and Dear Liza, and culminated with our biggest party of the fall, Tacky Party. In the spring, the house concentrated on brother and pledge unity, but still managed to have its share of Hoddy Late Nights with the bands Backwoods, and the Breakfast Club. This year SAE also introduced the college to the tradition of Paddy Murphy.

One of the strongest years for the SAE house, 1997-98 proved SAE's preeminent position on campus. We would like to thank Stephen Lilly, James H. Tayberry, Haugh D. Balls, and all of our alumni for their more than generous support. Phi Alpha.

Warner Hall

The Wild Women of Warner Hall had another wonderful year. House members enjoyed social functions, service, and sharing Todd's great entrees. The house was involved in many service projects. In the fall, our service chairs headed the all-court "Run Under the Stars," which benefited Loaves and Fishes. In the spring we cosponsored Spring KArnival with Kappa Alpha which raised money for muscular dystrophy. Members were involved in many other projects, too, ranging from a Breast Cancer Awareness table in the Union to selling Crush cans to benefit the Ada Jenkins Center.

House members who reached their goal GPA were recognized and a new "spot" program was created. Wappa-Happas were involved in many aspects of Davidson life including basketball, cheerleading, field hockey, lacrosse, soccer, swimming, Davidson Ambassadors, SGA representatives, serving as Hall Counselors and RAs, and writing for the Davidsonian.

Wappa-Happas kicked off the year with our annual Crush Party. Before the cool winter set in house members relaxed and shagged the night away on the porch at Oyster Roast. Warner Hall was proudly represented by President Jean Boehmler and Wild Thing Averett Buttry. The week before semi-formal members transformed the house into a virtual jungle. Bungle in the Jungle was quite a success with members and their "Tarzans" getting back to nature.

Also in November, members toasted senior men at a Champagne Party held in their honor. Before finals set in Wappa-Happas managed to schedule in just a little more holiday fun at Christmas Cocktails - complete with a fire and stockings on the mantle. Members also took a break from studying and baked cookies the week of exams.

Spring 1998 started off with a bang. This year 66 freshwomen self-selected Warner Hall. The night was definitely one to remember as our newest members partied with water guns and whipped cream. New members further bonded during Big Sis Lil Sis week and in a scavenger hunt prepared to acquaint them with the house and Patterson court.

In January, Ann Strauser was elected our president for 1998. In March, Warner Hall went all out for Formal which was held at the Charlotte Convention Center. House members also relaxed on new patio furniture and enjoyed keeping up with their favorite shows on our new television and entertainment center. The house capped off a great year with Patio Party and our tribute to the class of '98's Senior Roast.

Kappa Sigma

This year the brothers of Kappa Sigma took it upon themselves to legitimize the existence of fraternities across the nation and beyond by shattering the stereotypical conception of the frat dog. We think we succeeded in molding a new, modern version of the perfect male organization.

While the rest of the houses on Patterson Court were on double secret probation, Kappa Sigma compiled a record worthy of much admiration.

In the realm of service, the Sigma had no equal. In the fall, Homeruns for Habitat was a grand success; one hundred innings of softball makes any man insane, but it was for a good cause. Our biggest service event, the MADD Run, again raised funds for MADD and, perhaps more importantly, increased the awareness of the dangers of drunk driving. We didn't win the service award at convocation, but we should have.

For sure, Kappa Sigma housed the greatest number of important campus personalities. We boasted the most varsity athletes (45, 44 of whom were on the chess team), the Student Body President, the Kappa Sigma President, and a few people who claimed to be on the ad-hoc committees. We also boasted the highest G.P.A. of any house on the court (1.3) and held the record for the most consecutive Patterson Court fights lost. One senior reportedly got a job. We won every intramural sporting event. We threw eggs at people we didn't particularly like. We captured the hearts of several freshmen girls. We drank beer.

Our parties were legendary. Again, the annual Double Denim party was the best soiree of the year. Pimp and Ho earned rave reviews in the Davidsonian, and we also set the standard for bringing terrible local bands to campus.

It could be said that the Kappa Sigma Delta Chapter deserves to be called the greatest fraternal organization in he world. It definitely could be said. We've set the pace, we're winning the race, and the rest of the houses are suffocation in our deadly tentacles. Squids rule!

The Black Student Coalition

The Black Student Coalition (BSC) strives to meet its responsibility to the college and the town of Davidson by sponsoring activities that are to the mutual benefit of its members and the college community. The BSC has made strides to establish community ties and to inform the Davidson College Community of our multi-cultural ideas. The students have coordinated and sponsored events ranging from Jazz Bands to Children's Storytelling.

A major part of the activities offered by the BSC focus on service. This year, students participated in the Merge Festival. This particular event was geared toward providing a substance-free atmosphere for youth to enjoy fun in the sun.. The Service Committee of the BSC also set up a series of workshops for some young adults involved with Mecklenburg County Youth and Family Services to learn about resume writing, interview skills, and independent living.

In addition to serving the larger community, the BSC has produced programs to increase the diversity and cultural awareness on the Davidson's campus. Through an annual event entitled "Umoja Festival," Umoja meaning Unity, the members of the BSC hold a variety of events during the third week in April to display the diversity that contributes to the makeup of Davidson's campus. From Reggae Bands to Gospel Explosions, the BSC tries to sponsor events that broaden peoples perspectives on life.

Some special events that the BSC incorporated into their programs this year included sponsoring a presentation on the Heritage of Black Dance, a reading by a renowned Haitian author Edwidge Danticat, School Daze: a Parody on the Minority on the Minority Experience at Davidson, a minority talent show and African Dance Class open to all college students, faculty, and staff. The role of the BSC in the Davidson College community and beyond directs the activities its members provide for the institution. The Black Student Coalition of Davidson College maintains their duty to those around them: "By creatively engaging all available resources, we continue to foster a strong sense of family in our community with an emphasis on the African Diaspora" - Mission Statement of the Black Student Coalition.

Rusk House

Once again, Rusk had a momentous year. We began by reacquainting ourselves with one another as we made our way Around the World, courtesy of the senior apartments. Eager to meet the new girls, we invited freshmen to come down to the house to mingle with us and our fraternity friends for Scream at your Shoes, as well as Ladies Lock-In. With Mary Marge and Kanoff acting as out incredible social chairs, all Ruskies had a blast at Destination Unknown, as we, along with our newly-revealed mystery dates headed out to Mooresville to enjoy some good ol' bluegrass music in the mystical surroundings of the quarry. Cosponsoring bands all across the court also helped to keep our social calendars full. Cheeseburger in Paradise is always a blast when we let our hair down mid-week for some fun with Jimmy Buffett.

As always, it was not only our social calendars that were kept full. Ruskies can be found volunteering throughout the year. We especially had fun cosponsoring Homeruns for Habitat with Kappa Sigma, and Run Under the Stars with all of Patterson Court.

Jackopierce was another highlight of the year, as Rusk was able to bring all of Davidson College one of the most popular bands around (thanks again, social chairs!). Policeman's Brawl was a hit as usual, as we packed the house with not only our own hoodlums, but with those crazy freshmen girls, as well. Christmas Cocktails is always a needed break before those exams roll around, and like good Ruskies, we took the opportunity to party before saying good-bye for the break.

Of course, our most exciting night of the year was Self-Selection. The entire campus probably heard our invitations to a huge new class of members to come down to their new house for a breakfast party. Having to survive through just one day of class was probably pretty tough after the early AM wake-up call, but our brave new Ruskies not only did that, but also made it back down to the house that night for the REAL celebration. The night will be remembered as a favorite even if they did get a bit wet!

In the Spring, our new social chairs Lindsay and Amy kept up our party pace. Big Sis-Lil Sis was a blast, as our Rusk families grew once more. Heaven and Hell separated the devils from the angels once again, while Longneck Redneck gave everyone the chance to get a little wild cowboy style. Formal was great fun as we bombarded Charlotte yet again with our enthusiasm. Senior Roast was a great night in which we, in laughter and maybe even a few tears, sent our seniors on their way. All in all, Rusk had another terrific year!

Kappa Alpha

Despite being driven underground and off campus by a J-Board suspension in October, the brothers of Kappa Alpha Order's Sigma Chapter continued to thrive in the 1997-98 school year.

KAs have remained leaders in the Davidson Community through their contributions to individual community service projects; soccer, tennis, football, golf, wrestling, and rugby teams; student publications such as the Davidsonian and Libertas; as well as the Honor Council. Kappa Alpha also hosted its fourth annual KArnival with Warner Hall. This community event is the Order's official charity and benefits the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Yet with social suspension, an assortment of extracurricular activities and weekly academic combat, one might be worried that we may have forgotten how to have a good time. Not so! Previous to suspension, KA enjoyed a wild First Night Down weekend, and Homecoming. And the Order thumped back to life with a well-deserved brotherhood at exactly 12:01AM on March 9th. Two days later KA officially returned with a traditional "Over the Hump" Wednesday night fandango. Throughout the remainder of the year Kappa Alpha got down with its bad self with Space Jam and yet another tradition, the Barn Dance. The Order also hosted its First Annual Faculty Bar-B-Que with Rusk.

Finally, Spring saw the initiation of 15 new pledges from across the country. These new brothers were able to help in planning parties and the KArnival. The younger brothers of KA bid farewell and Godspeed to the departing seniors. May your KA memories never fade.

Phi Gamma Delta

This year Fijis continued to enjoy the off-campus life in their house on Beaty Street, a good place to either study without distractions, or annoy the neighbors with the best parties at Davidson.

1998 saw both the 75th anniversary of the Delta Chapter and the 150th anniversary of the national Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and the Fijis and their graduate brothers celebrated with the most successful Norris Pig Dinner the chapter has seen in many years.

Fijis weren't the only ones celebrating, though - the famous Phi Gam Tram faithfully shuttled hordes of partying maniacs to an from the house for a number of parties, including the legendary Rave, and the annual Fiji Islander.

Fiji continued to excel in academics and community service, earning Honorable Mentions in both service and academics from the Patterson Court Council at Fall Convocation, and continuing to lead the fraternities in average G.P.A. Delta Chapter brothers also sold blood plasma to raise money for a sick child in Charlotte needing a heart and lung transplant.

Chapter officers for 1997-98 were Chris Thunberg, President; Asa Hercules, Treasurer; Fahd Gul, Recording Secretary; Jon Williams, Corresponding Secretary; and Will White, Historian.

1997 RECORD
3-8
HEAD COACH - TIM LANDIS

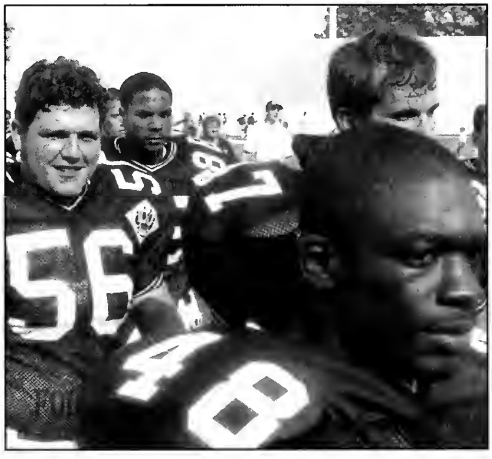
top left: Andrew Carelock holds his opponent in place for Donnie Johnson to level. top right: Quarterback Tom Dugan looks for a whole in the defense. bottom left: Eric Ferguson shakes off a defender. bottom right: Ed Diggins and Marcus McFadden strike fear into their opponents with dirty looks.



The Wildcats' goal for the 1997 season was to match last year's impressive winning record. Unfortunately, though Head Coach Tim Landis would not accept any excuses, the team burrowed through an autumn of unexpected injuries to their offensive line to amass a somewhat dissapointing record of 3-8. The team had difficulty pulling games out at the end, losing five games in the last two minutes by less than a touchdown. They did host a challenging schedule, taking on scholarship team University of South Florida in their final game before over 30,000 fans.

Starting cornerback and junior co-captain Cliff Henry sparked the defense in the secondary and was the team leader in interceptions. While Henry kept opposing quarterbacks weary of throwing deep, their biggest fear was perhaps the Wildcats' biggest team surprise. Freshman Bo Henderson, the team's Defensive Player of the Year. Henderson fell one sack short of the single season record mark. Each game, opposing offensive coordinators were forced to find new ways to stop such an athletic power on the defensive line. His work ethic, field smarts, and unmatched enthusiasm for the game make him a player that all coaches pray to wear their team's uniform. Linebacker Shariv Arial gave the defensive squad senior leadership as did defensive lineman Benjamin Spivey.

Offensively, the Wildcats' struggled through unexpected injuries, but even so, senior co-captain Tommy Dugan and junior Sean Tyrance throttled the air attack. Roland Williams had a stellar year receiving those footballs, establishing himself as a breakaway threat, and freshman Corey Crawford stepped into the role of a mid-range receiver. It was Eric Sapp, however, the team's Offensive Player of the Year, who stole the show. He utilized sure hands and sharp cuts to often leave faster, more athletic cornerbacks on their heels. And, when the cornerbacks tightened up on the talented receiving core, Dugan and Tyrance hit junior tight end Wes "Stuuuuuuuuu" Jones streaking down the center of the field.

Eric Ferguson, though hampered by back pains, was a horse in the backfield, blocking for the junior running back trio of Brian Kern, Lorenzo Moll, and Nate Hagerman. Chip Stewart set a firm anchor on the offensive line until his injury late in the season.

A YOUNG TEAM LOOKS AHEAD

-- Ida Wainschel

The very young women's soccer team, coached by Kevin Hundley and led by senior captains Amy Kanoff, Annie Noznesky, and Kelley Schmidt, had a difficult fall season. With only six upper classmen and eighteen underclassmen, the inexperienced Wildcats faced a strong schedule with nationally-ranked opponents and several long-time rivals.

The highlight of the season came in the last few games during the Southern Conference tournament. The Wildcats earned a spot in the semi-finals after an exciting shootout against Furman. The game included a very controversial goal, a red card, and two penalty kicks—both saved by Noznesky—called back.

The graduating captains will be missed next year, but the returning players are optimistic about next year. Hopes are high following a successful spring training.

Despite a difficult start to the '97 season, the young Wildcat team rallied behind the leadership and work ethic of Senior Captains Dan Guill, Jeff Weeks, and Phil Julien, and Junior Captain Brad Stroble. The early going involved two narrow losses in Wisconsin to UW-Madison, and UW-Milwaukie, and an uncharacteristic Conference loss to The Citadel. However, as the charismatic Men's Soccer Team began to peak at mid-season, their luck was turned, and they clawed their way back towards a .500 record against some of the nation's best. The second half of the season was marked with a Davidson first: two victories against ACC opponents in the same week (UNC, Wake Forest). And by defeating nationally-ranked Furman, Georgia Southern, and Conference newcomer UNC-Greensboro, the Cats finished a close second in the Southern Conference with a record of 6-2. The season ended with a semi-final tournament loss to Furman, at Furman.

UNC-Greensboro provided the stage for the season's most dramatic finish. After freshman David Buehler scored with less than a minute remaining to send the game into overtime, a brilliant free kick by sophomore Randy Culbertson bent around the wall and past the diving goalie, finding the upper corner for a Davidson victory. Other highlights included a "Conference Player of the Week" performance by sophomore Hart Roper, a performance which culminated with a diving header in front of over a thousand screaming Charlotte schoolkids. Freshman Dane Erickson also found his way onto the highlight film with a blast against Wake Forest that secured a 1-0 victory at Wake Forest. Many Davidson victories were held intact due to the outstanding goaltending of Juniors Brad Stroble and Marshall Tyler.

Freshmen Dane Erickson and Dave Buehler wreaked havoc in the center midfield, earning second team All-Conference, while fellow freshman Pat Miller's hard-nosed defending won him a spot on the fist team. With their return and with the return of fourteen players who saw starting time this year, the Cats will try to build from this season as they again face-off against the country's best.

The 1997 Field Hockey season was a memorable one for the Cats, especially for seniors Sara Gebhardt, Chase Keith and Erin Smith. Jennifer Blizzard Halliday became the new head coach in August and introduced the Cats to an intense competitive program. Halliday played at UNC Chapel Hill finishing as NCAA runners-up all four years.

The first full day of practice did not involve sticks, balls or goals. Instead Halliday took the team to a high ropes course in Charlotte to build chemistry, confidence and trust among the players.

The Cats did not have a winning record, but the season was a success and the Cats accomplished many goals. Juniors Amy Lamoureux, Lindsey Parker, Laura Rosenbach and Lowell Rayburn helped the small senior class by adding their leadership. The highlight of the season was the Cats victory beating VCU in double overtime. The dedication, commitment, hard work and love for the sport was not only key in the '97 season but also shows great promise for the future of the Davidson Field Hockey Program.

REFLECTIONS ON THE SEASON

On August 13, 1997 I began my first day as a Wildcat volleyball player. I had no idea what to expect from the program. However, I could not have come into a better situation. Both the coaches and the team members constitute the most dedicated and motivated group of people I have ever played with. This season the volleyball team made great strides, placing third in the Southern Conference- the best finish in Davidson history. We led the conference in digs, and were third in hitting efficiency and blocking. In addition, two players, Janet Duncan and Lois Ann Bumgarner, were selected second team all-conference. Although the season did not end as we had hoped, the team has high expectations for next fall. This spring we began a more intense training program, which should give us an advantage going into next season. As for me, I look back on my first season as a definite success, but I look forward to my second with higher aspirations.

SEASON SUMMARY

Four years ago we were a perennial doormat for other schools in the Southern Conference; a team who continually finished last or next-to-last in the conference. In the span of four years much has changed, and this year we felt at times like the team being chased rather than the chaser. A fourth place finish in the conference was easily the highlight of our season and the team's highest finish in 24 years. I think with the success we have seen this year, there will be high expectations for next year's team---- expectations which we have not had to deal with before. But, in tasting some success, the Davidson golf team will only be hungrier for greater triumphs in the future. --Jason Lina

EXPECTATIONS FOR NEXT YEAR

This was one of the best teams Davidson has had since the early 70's, and it will only get better. With Jason Lina and Andy McDaniel leaving, Dave Alexander will provide strong leadership and can lead the team to a high finish in the conference. Of course he'll need help from Sophomores Austin Ziegler, Sean Davidson, and Scott Shupe. Seniors Connor Eldrige and Dave Deschlercan also contribute to the team effort. In addition, there may be a few surprises in the freshmen class and these men could only help the team. 1998-99 looks to be a promising year for coach Joe Marks and the Davidson Wildcat golf team. --Andy McDaniel

Highlighting this year's swimming and diving season were repeat team championship victories for both the men's and women's Wildcat teams at the Southern States Championships and top ten finishes at the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Championships.

Early dual meets against strong competition had our women, led by captains Mary Noel George and Kathleen Paffenroth, with an 0-4 record after the first semester. After the Florida training trip, however, the Cats won three of their remaining five meets and were able to put a scare into the Duke team for the first time. Although their goal of a winning dual meet record was not achieved, their 3-6 record did not deter the Cats from defending their title at Southern States, winning in a thrilling fashion by 5 1/2 points over Evansville. Mary Shell Brosche continued to be a force, winning three events. Brosche was joined by Paffenroth, Suzzi Bozzone, and Karen Fritchie on the All Southern States Team. New school records were established by Beth Wilson (100 and 200 Breast), Brosche (200 IM), and in four of five relays (200 Medley, 200, 400, 800 Free). Freshman Christa Conner rewrote the record books in diving by establishing new marks in all four events. At the ECAC's, the women finished tenth out of forty teams.

Although it took them winning their last four dual meets to get there, the men's 5-4 dual meet record was their third winning season in the past five. Led by captains David Maddux and Jason Prince, the Wildcats notched wins over ACC rivals Duke and Georgia Tech for the second consecutive year. In addition, for the first time in history, the Cats scored a victory over UNC-Wilmington. New school records were established by Bill Paterson (50 Free), Terry Dolch (100 and 200 Back), Scott Harper (200 and 400 IM) and by three relay teams (200 and 400 Medley and 200 Free). Seven men were honored with All Southern States Team recognition. In that meet, the men won by 41 1/2 points over rival Georgia Southern. The Wildcats have won this meet three times in the past five seasons. At the ECAC's, the men moved up one place to eighth and established themselves as a perennial top ten team at the meet.

The 1997-98 women's basketball team experienced the most successful season in the program's history. It was a year for many firsts. The final record was 18-9; throughout the season the team compiled more wins overall and in conference play than any previous Davidson women's team. Some of the highlights of the season included almost beating SEC powerhouse Vanderbilt, the first win in history against an ACC team, Georgia Tech, a second place finish in the Southern Conference, and a ranking of 17th in the nation in field goal percentage. Another huge milestone in the season was a win against the Furman Paladins. It was the first win for Davidson over Furman since joining the Southern Conference. Three players were named to the Wildcat Baseball team builds for the future"

--Drew Williams

The Davidson baseball squad ended the season at a woeful 13-38. Despite the losses, there were moments of glory that made Wildcat fans ecstatic. Take for instance the dynamic first team All-conference DH Mike DeSimone, who hit a game-winning home-run against App. State, and Stew Sloan, who single-handedly sent the 'Cats into the playoffs with a tenth inning single to beat ETSU 14-13. Brian Joyce swiped a single season record 34 bases, and Wes Self, a freshmen, was voted as the 'Cats most valuable pitcher. Other memorable moments include the ecstatic Marshall Tyler, who leapt heroically for a plastic bag floating over the pitcher's mound, but came up short, unheroically landing on his derriere, make a complete fool out of himself. And Kurt "tough guy" Davis was hit by 15 pitches in 112 at bats, a new Wildcat record. Next season, the 'Cats will return their entire pitching staff, including the formidable Jeff "Acronym" Case, who dazzled hitters with his 93 kph (kilometers per hour) fastball. Jeff also dominated all other pitchers in pre-game Flip, using his 13" glove as a weapon. Ben "Don't be Gay" Brown and Davis will lead the Wildcats as co-captains next season, as a young Wildcat squad takes the field in hopes of capturing the Southern Conference championship.

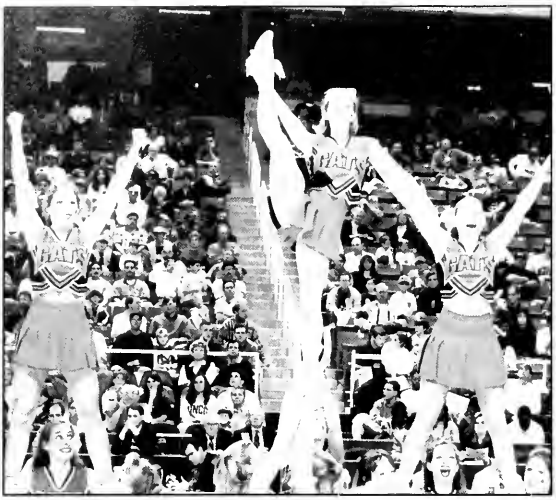
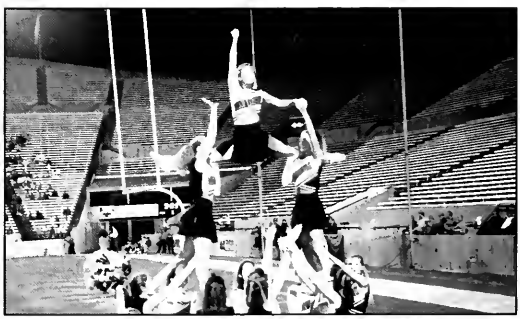
MEN'S TRACK AND FIELD



What makes a Wildcat Cheerleader?

Mind, body, spirit and heart. Our mindset is always to energize is always to energize and captivate the crowd. At games we fill dual roles as a spirit team in the stands and a performing unit on the floor. We hand out spirit flyers, paw tattoos and pom-poms; we lead chants, dance during time-outs and cheer. We throw stunts up to 2 and 1/2 levels high and use signs and banners to encourage crowd participation and interaction. This year we had 13 members for football season and 14 members for basketball season. We traveled to Tampa, Greensboro and Atlanta with the teams. We had a wonderful year due to the leadership of our dedicated captain, Stephanie Baxter, a powerful, positve team attitude and the motivation to support the teams to the best of our abilities.

Every Day is a Great Day to be a Wildcat!



The Man Inside the Mask

For four years Davidson has been wondering who the elusive Mr. Cat was. Finally, this year Mr. Cat's identity was revealed at the 1st home basketball game. Senior Brad Preston has entertained Davidson fans for 4 years with his crazy antics and spontaneous spirit. Single-handedly, he has elevated the art of being a mascot to a class of its own. This year was an exciting one as Mr. Cat whupped UNCC's 49er, fought to win Ms. Kitty's heart at the University of South Florida game in Tampa and finally married Ms. Kitty at a February basketball game. This marriage put an end to all speculation about the mysterious relationship between the two. Mr. Cat has become a mascot Davidson can be proud of, but prouder still is the campus of Brad's efforts and support of Davidson athletics.

One Fine Kitty

Ms. Kitty caused quite a commotion this year. While her beauty always raises a stir, the talk this year was about her marriage to Mr. Cat. She has decided not to change her name, but that was the only condition in the marital agreement. While close-mouthed about the relationship, the newlywed reports a blissful new life of catnip and late afternoon naps on the McKillops' porch. The Davidson fans look forward to her arrival at every game, love to photograph her and obtain her autograph. Thus Ms. Kitty's schedule is continually full, but she is never too busy to talk to her adoring fans. She even entertains intimate friends with her vocal talents, another of her many skills. Ms. Kitty sends her love to her public and looks forward to next season...

The Davidson College Crew Team spent the 1997-98 season defying all odds-- and the history books-- for its most successful season yet. The team began the year by nearly quadrupling team membership with the addition of more than thirty freshmen rowers and coxswains. Other additions included Charlotte coaches Joanna Flanagan and Wendy Deem. Fall competitions in 5K head races took the team to Marietta (OH), Knoxville, and Augusta, earning medals for the women's varsity 4+ and the men's and women's novice 4+. Collaboration between team fund raising efforts, assistance from the athletic department, and outside donations aided the team in the purchase of an eight-man shell, hatchets, and a new erg. Officers spent the second semester drafting a team constitution and formulating plans for additional equipment and facilities. Spring competitions in the 2000m sprints sent the team to Fairfax (VA), Clemson, Oak Ridge (TN), and Charleston (WV), earning numerous medals, including the team's first gold medal by the women's varsity 4+. The crew team looks forward to continued growth and success next year, as they bid farewell to senior rowers Allison Moore, Dave Jackson, and Derrick Miller. After a season of highly competitive racing and phenomenal results, the Davidson Crew Team proved to be a true competitor on and off the water. They gained recognition, respect, and admiration from the rowing community.

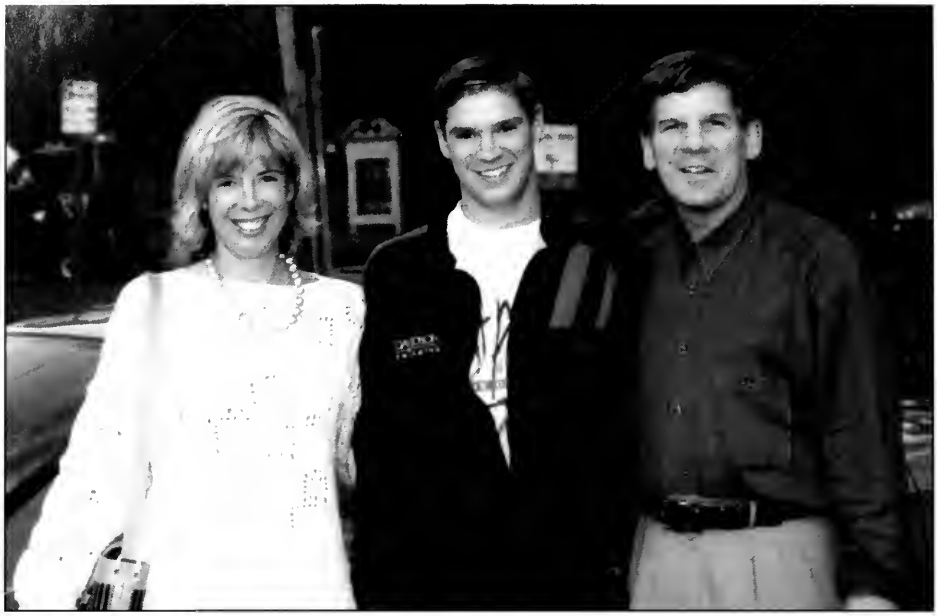
Dearest Stephanie,
What a marvelous journey so far! Congratulations on this very important milestone. I'm so very proud of you and love you lots.
Mom

From the first day of Red Satchel to graduation day you have met all sorts of challenges; aching homesickness, culture shock, conflicts, demanding classes and zany nights on the Court. With each new experience you have grown in mind and heart. Along the way your sharp intellect and quick wit have raised other's conscienciousness and concern for social issues, and you have deeply enriched the lives of family and friends by your caring and generous spirit. As you leave Davidson, we wish you a future filled with a bountiful harvest of joy and love.

With hugs and kisses, Mom and Dad



Dear Freddy, Since your first swim practice at age 4, we always knew you had a talent for swimming and it has shown through your many ribbons, trophies and medals. As you begin to pursue your career, we know you will succeed as well as you have in swimming. We all love you. Mom, Dad, Betsy, and David

CONGRATULATIONS NIKKI!

May you always know how proud I am of you.
"May you reap the rewards of kindness.
May your sunshine always shine through.
May love walk by your side.
May friendship sing in your smile.
May opportunity remember to knock on your door and surprise you once in a while.
May your memories be ones that you wouldn't trade.
May your hopes and dreams find ways of coming true."
--Collin McCarty

LOVE, MOM

Anthony--

Congratulations on your graduation. We are proud of you and your many accomplishments. Remember the words of that illustrious teacher and sage, Yoda:

"Do or do not--
There is no try!"

We love you very much. May the Force be with you always!

--Mom, Dad, and Andrea

Congratulations, Lauren

LYB, Kiska and the pack

We are proud of you and love you!

Art & Gayle Schmidt

Dear Adrienne,

Congratulations! Because of your patience and love of learning you have completed four years at Davidson. We love you!

Mom and the entire family

Congratulations!

David Woodall Aycock

You have always been so special. We are so proud of you and your wonderful achievements.

We love you, Mom & Dad

Congratulations, Catherine!

We are so proud of you. Thank you for all of the joy you have brought to our lives. Have faith in yourself and reach for your dreams.

Love, Mom and Dad

Looking to the future?!
We hope it will be as bright as you could wish for and as much fun as your time at Davidson.
Congratulations, Jesse and may the force be with you...
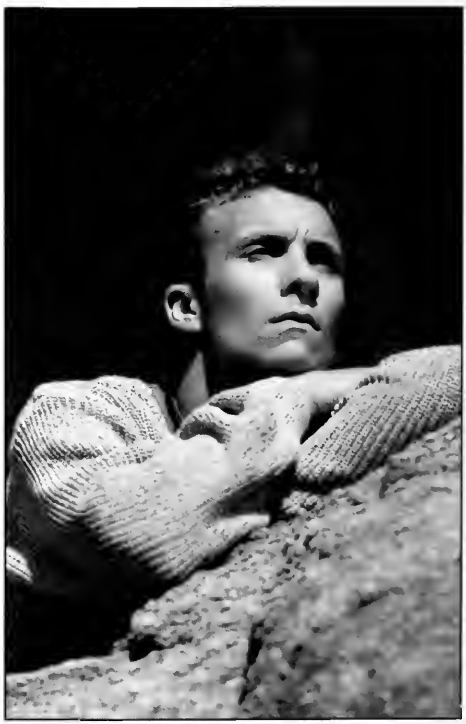
Lots of love,
Mom, Pa & Melissa



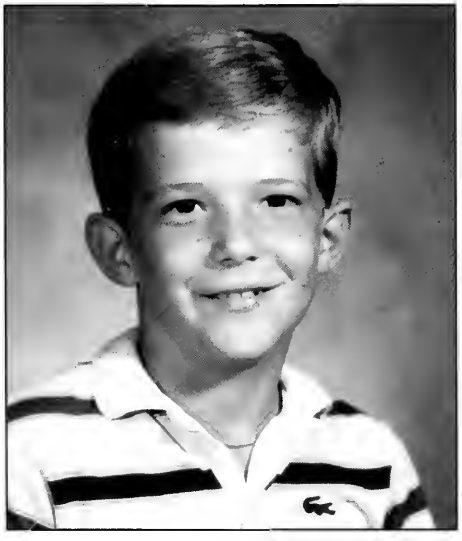
Dearest Michelle,

We are most blessed to have you, a wonderful, caring, loving person, as our daughter. You left for Davidson a young girl seeking to understand herself and the world; four years later you are a most beautiful, concerned, and reponsible young woman ready to face the challenges ahead.

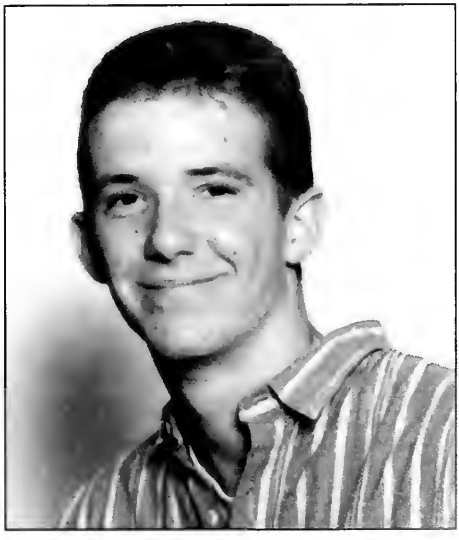
You make us proud! Congratulations! Panta Axia!

All our love, always,
Mom and Baba

ERIC



Our love goes with you into the exciting future that awaits you.
CONGRATULATIONS!
Mom, Dad, and David



We have always been and remain very proud of you, for who you are now and for who you are becoming. From the beginning you have been a joy to us.

Congratulations, Tristan

and the Class of 1998

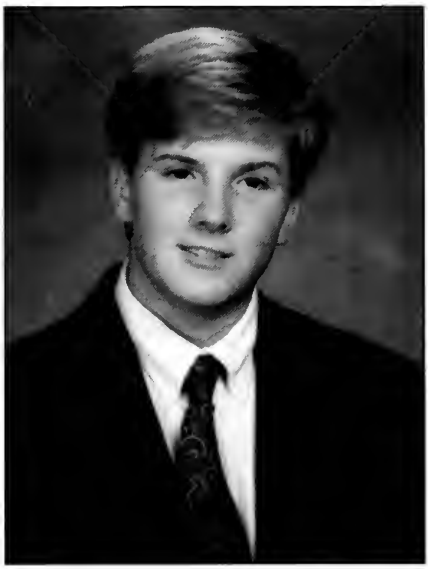
Best of luck in the years to come.

Joyce & John Barr

Congratulations on this, your latest achievement. We are always proud of you. Keep it up.



Mom, Dad, Kelly, Christy, Paul, Katelynd, and Raider

You have reached the top of one more set of stairs.
How many are left only you can decide.
From the steps you built for the Roundhouse to the steps you climbed to receive your diploma from your mother's hand,
Your life has been extraordinary.
You have stood fishing on the banks of a river with your father
learning from each other.
You watched over your sister as you ascended
Engineer together.
You have seen the true beauty of the world from the top of a mountain and from a stranger's handshake and smile.
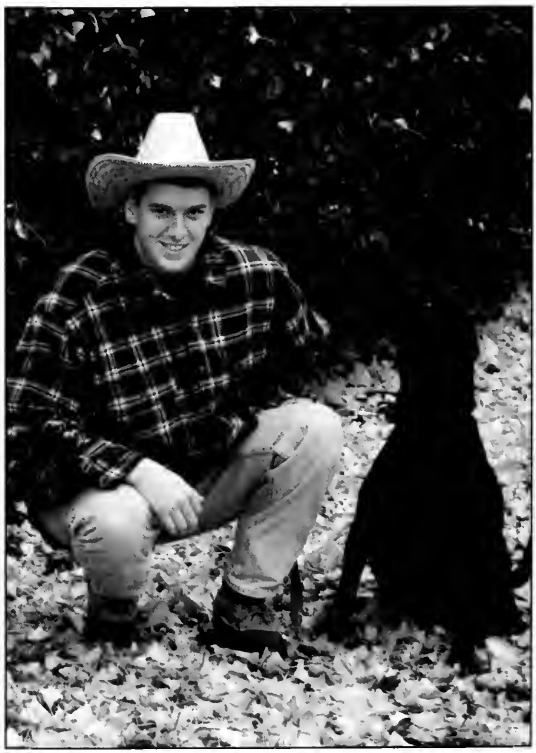
The world is yours!
The next set of steps is waiting!

KATIE, MOM and DAD



Dear Heather,
Our hearts are with you always! We're so proud.
Love, Mom and Dad

Jenny,
Our pride is exceeded only by our love.
Mom, Dad, Josh & Libby

Congratulations, Sweet Pea!!

"You are so beautiful to me... everything I hoped for, everything I dreamed."

Dear Kimmie, May your future be everything you want it to be. Love, Mom

from The Horse Whisperer
by Nicholas Evans

"If only you could make now last forever," Frank said.

"I guess that's all forever is," his father replied. "Just one long trail of nows. And I guess all you can do is try and live one now at a time without getting too worked up about the last now or the next now."

It seemed to Tom as good a recipe for life as he'd yet heard.

Allison,

You are the light of our lives, now and forever. We love you.

Mom, Dad and Grandma

Dearest Lisa,

We are so proud of your accomplishments and the wonderful woman you have become. We love you!

Dad, Mom & Jack

Congratulations
Lt. Ryan Gist.
You've prepared for this day since you were seven!
Love, Mom, Dad, and Lauren

Congratulations, Tina!

We are proud of you and wish you a wonderful life ahead.

Mom, Dad & Thomas

George

You have achieved so much.
Your goal is within reach.

We are so very proud of you!

Dear Jason,

God has a special purpose for your life, a plan that can only be accomplished with His help. He created you with a wonderful future in mind, as a unique person... carefully formed and developed by the circumstances He ordained... called to walk with Him by His grace. We love you and we are proud of you.

Love, Mom and Dad

"I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and give you hope and a future." Jeremiah 29:11

Good job, Kate!
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Loucinda, and Gaines

Congratulations, Scott

We love you and are so proud of you!

Mom, Dad, Rob, Erin, and Curly

Congratulations, Dan

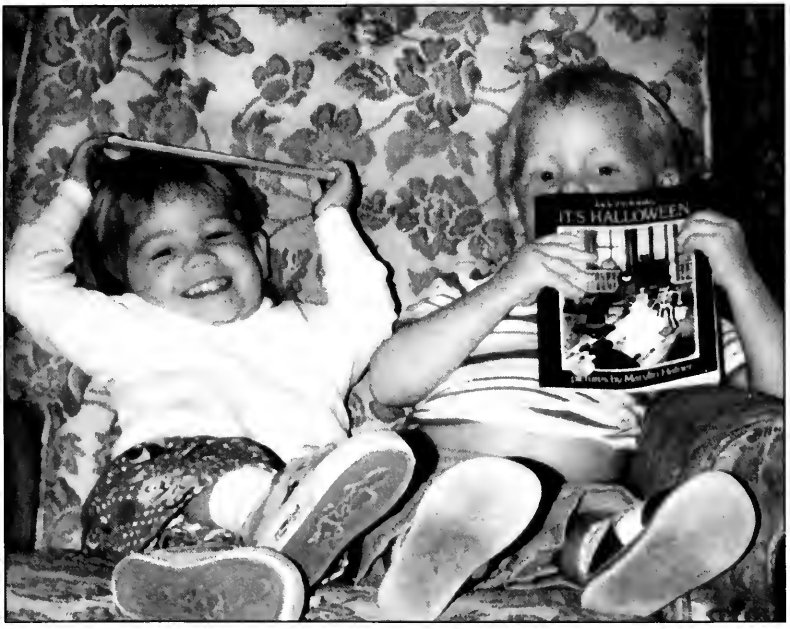
We're proud of you!

Mom, Dad, & David

Dear John,

We have known yesterdays filled with memories to be treasured. We feel pride today because of who you have become. We look forward to tomorrows when your dreams will be realized. Wishing you much happiness and success in the years ahead.

Our love and support, Mom, Dad, and Dave



Congratulations, Kristina!

From pre-school and "blustery days" to your college graduation, you've always kept your captivating smile, compassion for all people, willingness to take risks, and love of life and adventure. We look forward to enjoying with you the next chapters in your book of life. We love you!

Mom, Dad, and Robert

Duncan, Congratulations! We're so pleased with the many opportunities you've made to learn and grow. Well done, laddie! Love, Mom, Dad, and Lucy

"The presence of a young girl is like the presence of a flower; the one gives its perfume to all that approach it, the other her grace to all that surrounds her." Louis Desnoyers

We love you and are so proud of you for your determination. Continue to put God first in your life and you will always achieve your dreams.

Dear Jeff,

You've made us very proud, and this is just the beginning. Best wishes for success and happiness in all that you do.

Love, Mom, Steve, and Amy

Congratulations Laura!

We are very proud of you and all your achievements!
With our love,
Mom, Dad & Austin
Romans 1:8

Emily Bronte described your future, Heather:

And what is the future, happy one?
"A sea beneath a cloudless sun;
A mighty, glorious, dazzling sea
Stretching into infinity."

More than our repect for your accomplishments, Heather, we are proud of you as a person.

Love, Dad, Mom, and Taylor

Double the blessings;
double the sighs.
Double tuition
for Davidson guys.

You've doubled the joy
in each of our days,
And doubled our pride
in your brand-new
B.A.'s.

Toddlers intent on Davidson Admission

Our congratulations and love and prayers,

Matt- Congratulations, you made it!

Heat- Thanks for your help.

Alex- Thanks for helping finish this!

To the girls- Even though you all aren't in this picture, thanks for the moral support!

Without much yearbook experience, this year's staff set out to not only create a yearbook, but to create the 100th volume of Quips and Cranks. For better or for worse, the book is now complete and will hopefully return to us in its finished form in early September.

This year has been a hard one for the staff, with a few editors prematurely departing, but for the most part the staff has been incredible, willing to what needed to be done to finish the book. Many thanks to Nick Dancik, the Activities editor, who, despite the lack of material from organizations added humor to what would have otherwise been a bleak section. To Kristen Taylor, the Freshman editor who was the first to get her section together. Mike Schaeffer, who managed to try his hardest on the Sports section despite the lack of pictures and response from coaches. Sarah House and Hunter McEaddy, veterans on the staff, who prepared a great Junior section. And to Heather Perry who helped augment our budget with Ad sales.

I would also like to thank the others that helped on the project. William Brown, for making sure that we received the budget that was needed and who worked to smooth out the kinks. Carolyn Henderson, our Walsworth representative, for always coming to my rescue and providing encouragement. To the others in the Union- Jennifer, Sean Doyle, Mike Goode, and Linda Daniels who were always around to help with invoices or give me a key to the office- thanks a lot!

Good luck to next year's editors, Kristen Taylor and Chris Martin, I know that you will be more organized than I was.

To the class of 1998, this book is for you. Thank you for the last four years- Best Wishes!

Thanks,

Virginia Fisher
